

Cantate Domino

Cantate Domino is one of a number of choral psalm settings made by its composer. Usually it is for a cappella choir, mostly treating the text in straightforward, homophonic style, although not without some chorally virtuosic touches. Towards the end, the ninth-century Gregorian hymn Veni Creator Spiritus is introduced, a traditional invocation to the Holy Spirit.