

Suite Antique

Suite Antique was written in 1979 specifically for a concert featuring the flautist Duke Dobing and the London Baroque Soloists, as part of the Cookham Festival. Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 5 was also on the programme, so Rutter scored Suite Antique for the same combination of instruments – paying homage to the forms and styles of Bach's day.